Subject: Rocky Mountain Rally rescheduled

Issue Date: May 11, 2021

The organisers of the Rocky Mountain Rally would like to announce that the rescheduled event will take place on October 8/9, 2021, the weekend following the Pacific Forest Rally, still based in Cochrane, Alberta. Recce will be held on Friday, October 8th with the rally competition all on Saturday the 9th.

While the back-to-back events will create some challenges, it also provides a rare opportunity for Eastern teams to attend two events in a single tow across the country, and maybe even take some time between the events to visit Canada's beautiful Mountain Parks. We will also be working with local businesses and venues to ensure that teams will be able to effectively re-prep their cars between the two events.

The stages being used for this year's Rocky Mountain can be considered some of the smoothest roads in Canadian rally, but don't confuse that with being an easy event. The 34km long Powderface Trail is considered to be one of the most challenging and beautiful stages in the country by the country's most experienced drivers.

Our registrar will be reaching out to entered teams to see if they want their entry to remain and reserve a spot on the entry list, or if they want to cancel and re-enter closer to the event. While we may be able to increase our competitor numbers in October, we are still expecting to exceed our entry limit.
